THE MAYOR IN TROUBLE WITH COL. MURPHY'S ARMY POST.

He Won't Take Shares in Its Raffle and reatons the Contlemen in Charge of It With the Law-His Letter Created a Great Disturbance at the Meeting and Made Col. Murphy Very Wrathy.

Mayor Hewitt's penchant for letter-writing has again brought him trouble.

Now it is the Grand Army Veterans whom be has angered by one of his epistles and. worst of all, he has given Col. Michael C. Murphy, his running mate on the County Democracy ticket, a violent slap in the face. Some time ago, through a defalcation, the treasury of Shields Post, G. A. B., was depleted to the tune of $2,000.

This organization had its headquarters at First street and Second avenue.

To make good its loss, which seriously rippled its finances, the Post projected an entertainment to be held on the 23d inst., and among other features a raffle of a magnificent G. A. R. badge was arranged, with tickets to be sold at $1 each.

The Committee on Entertainment sent tickets to many prominent men with circulars stating the object of the entertainment and raffle.

Mayor Hewitt was not forgotten in the distribution of chances. He received a number of tickets.

The response was prompt and satisfactory from most of the tickets thus sent out, but Mayor Hewitt's reply occasioned a howl of indignant protest and wrathful comment when it was read at a meeting of the Post the other evening.

other evening.

The Mayor, in his letter, said, in substance, that he had frequently been called upon to purchase tickets similar to those which he returned, and had uniformly refused to do

In the case of these particular bits of card-board he felt impelled to add that he should warn each of the gen-tlemen who signed the circular which accompanied them that they were violating the law—in fact, were liable to prosecution for gambling if they persisted in their raffie scheme.

He is said to have concluded this epistle with a request that the lottery be abandoned, when, he suggested, he might invest $5 for the benefit of the Post.

William Thompson, of 130 First avenue, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, has this letter.

Where does Col. Mike Murphy come in?

Just here. Col. Mike is a member of Shields Post, and was promptly notified of the receipt of Mayor Hewitt's letter.

He hastened to satisfy himself that the Mayor had sent such an epistle, and after reading it, is said to have exploded with wrath and poured invective upon the head of Father Abram.

HE WILL DIVIDE THE OFFICES.

Mayor Hewitt Says That if Re-elected He Will Consider the Republicans.

When Mayor Hewitt's attention was called this morning to the statement of Mr. Croker that the Mayor had asked him to allow Mr. that the Mayor had asked him to allow Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the EnglishFisheryCommissioner, to attend a meeting of the Tammany Hall General Committee, he said:

"I met Mr. Chamberlain at dinner, and he expressed some curiosity about how political caucusses are conducted in this country, and asked if it would be possible for him to attend a political meeting. It is true that I promised to make known his desires to Mr.

Croker, and did so, but he saw fit to decline."

Amos J. Cummings's statement that Mayor Hewitt could go as far as the Metropolitian Opera-House to attend the Queen's Jubileo celebration, but could not go half as far to review the Iriah societies was referred to, and the Mayor, somewhat impatiently, said: "The cases were different. In the one case it was a celebration of a very remarkable event—the celebration of the completion of fifty years on the throne of a friendly nation by a woman who, to my certain knowledge, prevented the recognition of the Southern Confederacy by Louis Napoleon.

"In the other case it was an invitation from some ordinary societies, which parade every year and which asked me to go up to Union Square and stand out in the cold to review their parade just after I had recovered from a two months' attack of rheumatism."

The Mayor was asked if he would appoint ered from a two months attack of rneumatism."

The Mayor was asked if he would appoint only Democrats if elected again, and he shid:

"When I was elected before I was the candidate of Democrats and I felt in honor bound to appoint Democrats, or at least to prefer Democrats, other things being equal; but now I am relieved from that obligation as a Citizens' candidate, and will appoint the best men I can find regardless of politics.

"I say this, though the Republicans are running a candidate against me: and if Mr. Erhardt should come before me I should probably think very well of him. Mr. Coogan, too, would make a good Commissioner in

A LETTER FROM A DOG.

'The Evening World" Pussy Would Be Delighted to See Him.

To the Editor of The Evening World: I am a dog-just a plain, ordinary dog-and as the people I live with are constant readers of THE EVENING WORLD, I, of course, have heard about your paper and also of your cat, whose acquaintance I would like to make. I am not a homely dog, for I come of good parents and have been well brought up and taught politeness. I am a Skye terrier; am about middle height. People say I am nicelooking, and if Miss Pussy would receive me I would be delighted if I could call and if I knew she would receive a gentleman dog, which I am. Hoping this will find her in good health, I remain.

frightened almost out of their wits and terrified people came running out of the buildngs. One man appeared on the street only partly dressed. He said he thought for an instant that he would fall a victim to the storm.

A crowd gathered in the rain on the crossing near Bowling Green and in front of the Field Building.

They saw that the pavement around the manholes leading to the subways at each end of the crossing were forced up several inches and that the pavement around them was badly misplaced and confused. There, at the southern end of this crossing the light-the southern end of this crossing the lightning had struck.

Underneath the crossing where the lightning struck were numerous metal pipes and cables. These turnished a strong attraction for the electricity and turned its course away from the large buildings near, which are probably better insulated.

The electricity ran along the subway under the crossing, making itself felt at both ends.
Mr. H. Richmond; an inspector of subways employed by the Consolidated Telegraph and Electrical Subway Company, was on the scene at 8.30, and, after an examination, pronounced the subway undurt by the rupture.
He suggested that perhaps a gas main had exploded, but there was no evidence in the atmosphere to indicate this.

There was a ragged-looking hole in the earth near the southern manhole, which undoubtedly marked the path of an electric current.

"The current of electricity in the air might not have been as high as the top of the Field building, but even if it was higher the surroundings of the crossing would tend to protect the building by being a stronger attraction for the electric current.

North Side street-car men which adjourned at 2 A. M.

This Committee is requested to wait on Mr.
Yerkes and ask him to reinstate all of the old drivers and conductors. As a matter of fact, the new men are rapidly replacing the late strikers under police protection.

Nearly half of all cars run yesterday were in charge of novices.

Numerous accidents resulted, including two breaks of the cable, the last as the theatre-goers were returning home at night.

Over 200 of the old employees were yesterday refused the privilege of retaining their former positions and taking out cars.

A FRIGHTFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Sufferings Intense. Head nearly raw. Body covered with Sores. Cured by the Cutleura Remedies.

sers, STEVENS & BRUNER, Monros, N. C. Dear Sire: About two months ago, on your recom-mendation, I bought a bottle of CUTICURA REMOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA SALVE and one cake of CUTICURA BOAP for my son, aged thirteen vests, who has been afflicted with ecsema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His cendition was frightfut to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me or any of my neighbors.
